

Create New Database Connection

Step 6: New database connection is added

New database connection is added.

Once you add Database Connection to the workspace, it appears on both left and right trees.

To connect to your database, double-click on the database connection name.